Link The People

The 2 players each think of a celebrity. On the count of 3 they reveal their choice. As a team players try to work out a chain link between them (like 6 degrees of separation) going through relationships, films & TV etc. until they link them. The aim is just to find a link from your collective knowledge not to know everything.

Guess The Snack

A player thinks of a confectionary product and the others have to ask non-descriptive, cryptic questions to try to work out the snack. For example: Would this snack pay for dinner on a first date?
